

Dr. Mark Rockenbach received his B.A. from Concordia College, Seward, NE; M.Div. from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, MO; M.A. in counseling from Doane College, Lincoln, NE and his Ph.D. from Capella University, Minneapolis, MN. Dr. Rockenbach served as a parish pastor before accepting a call to the Nebraska District Office where he served as the Executive for Church Worker Health and Reconciliation. He has served as a mental health counselor for Lutheran Family Services of Nebraska and adjunct professor at Concordia University in Seward, NE and Concordia University in Mequon, WI. He currently serves in the following roles at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, MO: Associate Professor of Practical Theology, Advisor on Personal Growth and Leadership Development, IRB Director, and Fieldwork Advisor for Graduate Students. Dr. Rockenbach and his wife Darlene have three children: Joshua, Rachel, and Andrew.