Laborers For Christ build cabins and chapel at Camp Okoboji

The Refuge - the new Camp Chapel

Combining church-related construction with spiritual renewal is what LCEF's Laborers For Christ is all about. LFC are Christian men and women who do physical labor for Christ, working for congregations and other church-related organizations of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod to build churches, schools, parish halls, retirement homes, camp facilities and more.

Recently LFC was on site at Camp Okoboji to build Ruth, Leviticus and The Refuge.

"Ruth" is the new family cabin that sleeps eight with a fully furnished kitchen and dining area. "Leviticus" is the new year-around dormitory that sleeps 18 with handicapped accessibility, and three complete bathrooms for campers and counselors. "The Refuge" is the camp's new prayer chapel that seats 25 and can be used for small worship services, Bible Study, weddings and personal meditation time.

LFC can be flexible and a good fit for your ministry needs. Whether it's the entire construction done from beginning to end, or like Camp Okoboji, LFC worked on the major initial construction of these facilities and local volunteers came on-site for the finishing work. It's a wonderful partnership for ministry!
